why appropriate action should not be initiated against it for violating the extant regulatory framework by its RedX tariff plan..."

"The RedX Tariff offer lacks transparency and is misleading and not in compliance with regulatory principles of tariff assessment contained under Telecom Tariff Order, 1999 as amended from time to time," TRAI has said in the showcase notice seen by PTL.

When contacted, VIL declined to comment on the

Telecom Regulatory Authority of India (TRAI), in showcase notice to Voda Idea, said it is of the view that the "claim of VIL for providing 'Priority 4G Network with faster data speeds' is not in compliance with the extant regulatory framework..."

It said that the RedX tariff offer is in contravention of several clauses of the Telecom Tariff Order relating to protection of interests of the consumer. VIL's RedX tariff offer "violates the terms of license agreement" and is not consistent with stipulated technical specifications, TRAI said adding that it also does not comply with the service quality norms.

Over the past weeks, TRAI had been probing Vodafone Idea's priority plan RedX and Bharti Airtel Platinum Offering to see if network preference to specific customers leads to deteriora-speed experience of non-RedX customers.

The showcase notice, which follows several rounds of questioning by the regulator, pointed out that VIL failed in demonstrating the actual delivery of the faster speeds to RedX customers.

It was observed that VIL has failed to demonstrate that individual RedX post-paid plan customer is getting faster data speed which is being promised to such customer in much publicised promise of 'Priority 4G Network,' TRAI said adding the promised benefits to RedX plan customers was not ascertainable in many cases.

The regulator said that "VIL's failure to communicate about the conditions under which priority in the networks shall be available in unambiguous terms is likely to induce the consumer to subscribe sider and refrain from such move of privatization of BPCL in the interests of the nation."

It said despite opposition by trade unions and BPCL employee unions, the govern-
